

More Top Stories

Cardinal Implicated in Abuse Scandal

Report: 94% of People Like Good Weather

Jewish-Muslim Game Night Devolves into Heated Game of Risk

HILLEL HOUSE--Last week, tens of Jewish and Muslim students gathered to promote interfaith relationships and just have a grand old time.

Students attending the game night played a number of carefree games including Candyland, Apples to Apples and Connect Four 3D. While these games were all in good fun, tensions heightened when the students began playing Risk.

Conflict first arose when Muslim student Mohammed Muhammed claimed that his pieces were on Jerusalem, but Jewish student Moishe Greenberg disagreed. "My pieces have been there all along," Greenberg said. "My great-great grandfather Abraham always had his pieces there."

When the Jewish students realized that there would be no easy compromise, they launched a preemptive attack of double sixes, which was

The game board used by the Jewish and Muslim students quickly countered by rock-throwing, missile fire and triple fives.

The game quickly spun out of control, as non-game players in surrounding fraternities were hit by flying Risk cards and green pieces.

Hillel promised that future game nights would stick to tic-tac-toe.

AlertSU Reports Woman Peeper: Huge Cockblock

Women peepers have been a threat to campus security ever since the early 1980s.

The University was met with a flood of complaints after it began using the AlertSU system to notify members of the Stanford community about female peepers. According to Terrence Goodman, a victim of a female peeper, "I thought I was dreaming about a woman in the shower with me, and then I realized there was one right outside the shower! I told her, 'stop watchin', come on in!'"

But it wasn't long before the AlertSU system sent a report of the incident to all of campus. A few minutes later, five Sigma Chi members showed up. "It was a major cockblock," complained Goodman. "And to make matters worse, those Sigma Chi guys took over the shower, so I couldn't even finish shampooing."

Even former peeper victim Lauren Davidson '11 claimed, "If it had been a woman watching me, I'd have invited her in too. She could have helped me get soap on those tough to reach spots mid-back." (Weinstein)

Class of '72 Surges to Win Battle of the Classes

Citing the need to defend their claim as the best class since the Vietnam War, the Stanford class of 1972 devastated the competition during Stanford's inaugural Battle of the Classes. As current undergraduates gradually arrived clad in spirit bandanas and funny hats, '72 immediately established their dominance, armed to the teeth and led by former army corporal Ed "Two-Finger" Howard. "I knew they were serious when their tanks drove up onto the curb and ran over my bike," recalls Vietnamese sophomore Cynthia Nguyen.

With shouts of "Oh-Seventy-Two," the vets split into three camps, Alpha, Bravo and Charlie, methodically dispatching current undergraduates in tug of war, kickball and the line for the barbecue. Class of '12 eventually hit upon the realization that the vets would scatter when they shouted "IT'S A TRAP, GET DOWN," and if small water balloons landed on the ground near them.

Hours after they intended to go home, '72 could still be seen milling around Roble Field, trying to develop an exit strategy. "I just feel bad that we're leaving the upperclassmen in Branner and Manzanita at the mercy of those commie freshmen in Okada," Howard lamented, as the last of the choppers airlifted his men to their Bay Area residences. "We have unfinished business here."

THE FLIPSIDE PUZZLE CHALLENGE: just solve the rebus puzzle and jumble and email your answers to flipside@stanford.edu. The FIRST person to send in their answer this week will win a sweet Flipside shot glass! Play the CAPTION CONTEST online for another chance to win a Flipside shot glass! This contest is online only. Last Week's Winners: Puzzle Challenge: Anna Shtengelova, Caption Contest: David Delgado

QUOTE: "We participated the best!" --Jack Parnitt, Member of the Class of '13 on his personal victory in the Battle of the Classes

REBUS PUZZLES

Can you guess the common word or phrase portrayed below?

last weeks answers: BACKSTREET BOYS, APHRODITE, BORN IN THE USA, REAL ESTATE

NUMBERS

24

The number of kills by Men's Volleyball player Brad Lawson in the Stanford National Championship win. This puts him in the ranks of other great killers like Jack the Ripper and the Bubonic Plague. Congratulations Brad!

CRYPTOGRAM CHALLENGE

This is a simple substitution code. Each letter is replaced by a different letter. Try to decode the message or quote below. HINT O=H

KOJMCBCQ KVQEN KC XMMCQ NOVXZE GC YOYNCH KFMO YJQC PVQ SCVSZC
KFZZ OCJQ MOCR JHE GC FHPZXCHYCE GT MOCR PVQ UVVE VQ FZZ. - GXEEOJ

LAST WEEK'S ANSWER: "THE WORLD IS MORE MALLEABLE THAN YOU THINK AND IT'S WAITING FOR YOU TO HAMMER IT INTO SHAPE."
-BONO

SUDOKU

Level: X-TREME

Fill in the grid so each column, row, and 3x3 box has the numbers 1 through 9.

	6		2			1	5
8				9		6		3
1				4
	8	4			3		7
				8
	2		6			3	8
				6				4
2		1		5				7
	9	6			8		1

SUDOKU PROVIDED BY SUDOKU-PUZZLES.NET

Note: All names and stories are fictional, unless public figures are being satirized. Remember, these are all jokes. To contact us, email flipside@stanford.edu. For more information and more content, visit stanfordflipside.com.

JUMBLE

Unscramble these four ordinary jumbles, and use the letters in circles to answer the final question.

STRAB
○ □ □ □ □

DUAIO
□ □ ○ □ □

DIWHEN
○ □ □ □ ○ □ □

WISLRY
○ □ □ □ ○ □ □

○ ○ ○ ○

THE

○ ○ ○ ○ ○ ○ ○

LAST WEEKS ANSWERS: WHOLE BLINK PONDER MARROW the best bread the restaurant has to offer HONOR ROLL

Editorial Board: Jeremy Keeshin, Zach Galant, Adam Adler, Laney Kuenzel, Eric Karpas, Bill Driscoll, Stephanie Weber, Ben Lubkin