

More Top Stories

Black Community Center Only Has Colored Printing

Obama Appoints Another Fox to the Supreme Court

ONLINE RADIO NEWS:

Charity Fashion Show Donates To Fashion Disaster Victims

President Cardona Slow to Respond to Great Lag Milk Spill

Last Wednesday, the student body of Stanford was devastated when freshman Jack Porter spilled a full glass of skim milk on the floor of Lag Dining. Immediately following the spill, President Cardona was contacted and alerted of the disaster. But rather than responding immediately, Cardona waited a full half hour before she appeared on the scene to console victims and direct the milk clean-up effort.

The milk spill was traumatic for Lagggers, many of whom were seen drenched in milk and holding half-empty glasses. Tens of bewildered victims with half-shaved milk mustaches were seen roaming around Lag Dining. Woeful cries of "Got milk?" could be heard from all floors of Roble.

In light of the slow response, Cardona has received widespread criticism. "I just don't understand how she could ignore us when we needed her help," said Erika Harker '11.

Daniel Nguyen '12 thought Cardona's inaction was intentional. "I know that if this spill had happened on the other side of campus, Cardona would've been there in a second. The real reason for Cardona's absence is obvious—Cardona don't like Lag people."

President Cardona issued a statement justifying her response. "Obviously, this is a serious challenge, but my mother told me never to cry over spilled milk. There are those who think my response was too slow, who claim that this spill is my 'Hurricane Katrina,'" Cardona continued, "but those people don't understand how hard I've worked to stop this milk from going sour. I absorbed excess milk with a paper towel. I posted milk safety signs to stop such a spill from happening again. I've worked with milkmen from all around campus."

How can we prevent future milk spill disasters?

Though Cardona has received a great deal of criticism, some think her performance has been praiseworthy. "I think people are making this larger than it needs to be," said Katrina historian Douglas Brinkley. "This spill wasn't anything like Katrina. Compared to that disaster, this was nothing—there wasn't even any chocolate milk involved in the spill."

Experts predict the containment effort will stop the milk from spreading beyond the confines of Lag Dining, but only time will tell whether this spill be worse than the Juice Catastrophe of '74. (Adler)

Lebron James to Sign With the Stanford Cardinal

League sources have confirmed that superstar LeBron James plans to opt out of his contract with the Cleveland Cavaliers to sign with the Stanford Cardinal. Tired of early playoff exits, James decided he needed a change of scenery.

At his press conference, James said, "I'm really excited to play for Stanford. They have a lot of championship potential and also great academics. I know they had a disappointing season this year, but I think this team can go places."

James also hopes Stanford, which still has plenty of salary cap space in its huge endowment, will be able to sign another marquee free agent like Dwyane Wade, Chris Bosh or one of the Monstars from "Space Jam" to join him.

James' agent echoed his excitement. "Stanford's a great sports town. The attendance at games is fantastic. Those stadiums are always packed."

James was also excited to join Stanford for the great weather and crazy frat parties. (Galant)

Phenomenal Court Mopping Propels Stanford to First NCAA Volleyball Championship Since 1978

Reminiscent of bat-boy legend Jake Newman's phenomenal 1987 performance that propelled Stanford to a college baseball title, 12-year-old court mopper Devon Johnson led the Stanford Cardinal to its first men's volleyball championship since 1978. Analysts agree that Johnson's lightning quick reflexes to dash onto the court after each point and his nationally recognized squeegee ability provided Stanford with the unparalleled inspiration, and traction, to drive the Cardinal's dominance.

"While the average spectator is wowed by the flashy spikes and digs coming from the players," said head coach John Kotsky, "it's keeping the court dry and safe that wins us championships — and that was our fundamental downfall until we brought on Devon this year."

For 12-year-old Johnson, although his future with Stanford volleyball is uncertain, letting the national championship soak in is the first priority. Devon forwarded this message, delivered by his mother, to the press. "I am not sure what I do next but it is happy now maybe I can come back to Stanford again." Although NCAA regulations require Johnson to graduate from middle school before declaring himself eligible for a professional position, sources tell us that Johnson hopes to challenge the constitutionality of the stipulation. (Tanabe)

THE FLIPSIDE PUZZLE CHALLENGE IS NOW ONLINE!
 Go to stanfordflipside.com to submit your answers to the puzzle challenge.
 Puzzle Challenge: Travis Golia, Caption Contest: Sandra Ofoman

QUOTE: "That is such a faux-pas. I'm not donating a dime." -Fashion connoisseur at Exotic Erotic, thinking herself to be at Charity Fashion Show.

REBUS PUZZLES

Can you guess the common word or phrase portrayed below?

Choose one:

-
- E

CQDRR ESFTT

last weeks answers: BROWN EYED GIRL, OVERWHELMING, BRANCHING OUT, BLUE JEANS

NUMBERS

50

The number of students at Exotic Aquatic who left with more clothing than they came with. Also the number of students at Exotic Aquatic who left with less clothing than they came in with. Also the number of people who came wearing Snuggles.
 You do the math.

CRYPTOGRAM CHALLENGE

This is a simple substitution code. Each letter is replaced by a different letter. Try to decode the message or quote below. HINT X = T

XQM XVTGCOM KNXQ ATLLNSL NY XQHX, CF XQM XNDM FTG VMHONPM FTG'VM

STX NS YQHWM ITV NX, NX'Y XTT IHV XT KHOR CHJR. - IVHSRONS W. ATSMY

LAST WEEK'S ANSWER: WHATEVER WORDS WE UTTER SHOULD BE CHOSEN WITH CARE FOR PEOPLE WILL HEAR THEM AND BE INFLUENCED BY THEM FOR GOOD OR ILL. - BUDDHA

SUDOKU

Fill in the grid so each column, row, and 3x3 box has the numbers 1 through 9.

Level: And a level up!

4		8				5
	2	5		8	1	9
	9		4		7		2
1	3		9				6
			2	3	4
	5				8		7	3
	1		5		6		8
		6	7	4		2	1
		2				3		6

SUDOKU PROVIDED BY SUDOKU-PUZZLES.NET

Note: All names and stories are fictional, unless public figures are being satirized. Remember, these are all jokes. To contact us, email flipside@stanford.edu. For more information and more content, visit stanfordflipside.com.

JUMBLE

Unscramble these four ordinary jumbles, and use the letters in circles to answer the final question.

ZEBAL

NOWEM

SCYTIM

SULCEN

LAST WEEKS ANSWERS: BRATS AUDIO WHINE SWIRLY what artists do on sunny days DRAW THE BLINDS

Editorial Board: Jeremy Keeshin, Zach Galant, Adam Adler, Laney Kuenzel, Eric Karpas, Bill Driscoll, Stephanie Weber, Ben Lubkin