

HEADLINES

Google Doodle Dresses Up as Bing For Halloween

Canada Begins Tourism Initiative: Occupy Canada

Massive Search Conducted For Freshman's Keys

On Tuesday, Kelly Andrews woke up, brushed her teeth, and left her dorm room for class. It was just like any other Tuesday. But then disaster struck.

"They must have fallen out of my pocket while I was biking through the quad," said a visibly shaken Andrews, "I reached into my pocket, and... they weren't there." She was no longer in possession of her keychain.

Andrews decided to post about her lost keys on Facebook. The community responded.

Within minutes, a Facebook group emerged. Within hours, the group had gained thousands of members and "#LostKeys" was trending on Twitter. After President Obama was briefed, he decided to hold a press conference, meet with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and raise the DEFCON level from 5 to 4.

"This is a really, really big deal."

"This is a really, really big deal," said White House press secretary Jay Carney.

By nightfall, a sizable crowd had assembled in the quad. Men, women, and children, students and faculty, undergraduates and graduates alike, had banded together to search for the missing keys. Members of the search party were interviewed.

"I had to help," said sophomore Kristin Pratt. "I just couldn't live with myself knowing that somewhere on campus, a girl was without her keys."

"To be honest, it's all a blur. I remember getting a text from AlertSU, and then running for the door," said grad student Clint Forney, "The next thing I know, I was in a sea of people and I was carrying a torch. Someone shouted, 'TO THE QUAD!' I knew what we had to do, what needed to be done." (von Zerneck)

CHEM 31A MIDTERM KEEPS STUDENT OUT OF MED SCHOOL

Last week, Stanford senior Katie Mullhondacivic was dismayed to learn that she was rejected from every medical school to which she applied because she did poorly on her second midterm in Chem 31A.

"I didn't do well on that one test, but then I studied really hard and rocked the final. I knew this was going to happen," the dismayed biology student informed reporters.

Princeton van Burenhofer, admissions officer at Johns Hopkins Medical School offered the following explaining her rejection: "Katie displays strong academic skills and has significant experience in both a research and clinical setting. However, she scored a full 3% below the mean on a freshman chemistry midterm which, unfortunately, indicates the she just isn't cut out to be a doctor. That said, we do have some openings for orderly positions in the university hospital that we believe she would be more than qualified for."

For the time being, Katie plans to move back in with her parents after graduation and reevaluate her career plans. She said of the ordeal, "I have one piece advice for all the pre-meds out there: your friends and memories will fade. Your grades stay with you forever." (Doherty)

HENNESSY: "FUCK IT, WE'RE GOING TO BE A FOOTBALL SCHOOL."

After several years of continued success on the gridiron, President Hennessy announced that Stanford University would transfer all funds dedicated to academics to the championship-contending football program. "Honestly, the average American does not give two shits that we're one of the best academic schools in the country," Hennessy explained as he tore off his suit to reveal a #12 Andrew Luck jersey. "But what they do care about is our yards per carry. We're simply supplying a demand." When asked for an opinion, SEC fans shouted incoherently. (Olson)

Hooker Dresses up as a Slutty Hooker for Halloween

Once a year, girls have an excuse to dress as slutty as they want for just one day—Halloween. One woman, hooker Amanda Roy, took this opportunity to really dress herself up as someone new. Her costume: Slutty Hooker.

"Every day for 52 weeks of the year I have to dress so professionally. Halloween is the one time I can dress however I want and nobody will judge me," explains Amanda. "Every day I have to wear a cumbersome tube top, fishnet stockings, and a mini skirt. Well, on Oct. 31, I'm losing the top and the skirt and am going to rock that costume party!"

The costume is quite controversial, however. People in the costume industry seriously doubt Amanda's ability to pull off the innovative outfit. Says Ron Stewart, San Mateo regional manager of Marty's Costumes, "I'm highly skeptical Amanda will be able to turn it in to a 'slutty' costume. I understand if she goes just as a hooker, but a 'slutty hooker' is almost unheard of."

To get a glimpse of this revolutionary costume, check out the intersection of Campus and Mayfield this Halloween. (Mann)

ENTER THE FLIPSIDE PUZZLE CHALLENGE!

Go to stanfordflipside.com to submit your answers to the puzzle challenge. The first solver will win a Flipside shot glass!

Congratulations to last week's winner: Tony Chen

QUOTE: "USC GIRL, Y U SO SAD?"

REBUS PUZZLES

Can you guess the common word or phrase portrayed below?

last week's answers: ONCOLOGY, ONE NIGHT STAND, MORNINGS, IMPERSONATORS

NUMBERS

6

The number of SAT words Andrew Luck used in his post game interview. Also the number of times the announcers mentioned he was an architecture major. "I live an ascetic life," said Luck. "The USC coach was just hapless with that last second timeout, and we had a myriad of good plays. Also, recalcitrant."

Know the definition of vacuous?
Go to stanfordflipside.com.

CRYPTOGRAM CHALLENGE

This is a simple substitution code. Each letter is replaced by a different letter. Try to decode the message or quote below. HINT K = I

KI CBW UWJFQV SQN PJW CPDMKVY CQ TQWV' C PUUWPJ CQ OW
DKFCWVKVY, OW UPCKWVC. KC GPS FKGUDS OW CBPC BW BPF P FGPDD
UKWZW QI IDNII KV BKF WPJ. -RKVVKW CBW UQQB

LAST WEEK'S ANSWER: THE FACTORY OF THE FUTURE WILL HAVE ONLY TWO EMPLOYEES, A MAN AND A DOG. THE MAN WILL BE THERE TO FEED THE DOG. THE DOG WILL BE THERE TO KEEP THE MAN FROM TOUCHING THE EQUIPMENT. -WARREN BENNIS

FLIPSIDE TSHIRT

Each week we will feature the design of a limited edition t-shirt for $10. Flipside Logo on the back. To order a shirt, email flipside@stanford.edu with what size you want. Heat press + Vinyl = High Quality T-Shirt

The Stanford Flipside is a weekly satirical newsletter. Our stories are fictional, but we make jokes about real issues. Our goal is not to offend you, but to make you laugh and to reframe our world to point out the absurdities. Anyone is free to join the Flipside, and we would love to have you! We meet Tuesdays at 9pm to brainstorm. Contact flipside@stanford.edu for more information.

JUMBLE

Unscramble these four ordinary jumbles, and use the letters in circles to answer the final question.

CROUC
○ □ □ □ ○

VAFRO
□ ○ □ □ ○

WALDEF
○ □ ○ □ ○ □

FETCED
□ □ ○ □ ○ □

○ ○ ○ ○ □ ○ ○ ○ ○ ○ ○ ○ ○

LAST WEEK'S ANSWERS: ZESTY BARGE JOINTS EROTIC the process of giving exams to the fighting fish BETA TESTING

Editorial Board: Jeremy Keeshin, Zach Galant, Adam Adler, Laney Kuenzel, Eric Karpas